

CREDITORS TO GET CHANDLER AUDIT

Receivers' Account Will Be Produced at Next Meeting, November 25

TO SHOW ACTUAL ASSETS

Creditors of the defunct brokerage firm of Chandler Brothers & Co. will hold another meeting November 25 at 11 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Building, for an audit of the account of the receivers.

According to John M. Hill, the referee in bankruptcy, the receivers' account will only show the actual tangible assets of the firm, and will include money on hand, either in the hands of Chandler Brothers & Co. at the time of the failure, or realized since from several compromises taken up at the time of the receivers.

From $40,000 to $50,000, it is believed, may be the aggregate in this fund.

This meeting positively will not give any evidence of the amount of money finally to be distributed to creditors, said Mr. Hill, "for the reason that the trustee expects to realize quite a sum of money from the debtors of the company, who owe on diverse accounts. He also expects to recover on several other suits to be brought."

These "several other suits," referred to, are those being planned by the creditors, who have united under leadership of Willard P. Barrows, the trustee. Mr. Barrows says he intends bringing suit against Percy M. Chandler, of Chandler & Co., Inc., for perhaps $500,000, and against Clark, Childs & Co., of New York, for large sums alleged to be due the firm of Chandler Brothers & Co. as the result of dealings with them.

Will Auction Furniture On the books of Chandler Brothers & Co. there is shown $4,117,827 due the firm from certain of its customers. The appraisers stated they expected about 10 per cent of this amount, $411,782 could be realized. The trustee, however, will go after every debtor hard. As many of the men owing the firm money are on small salaries, however, it will be virtually impossible to get much from them. Other men owing large amounts have gone broke since the decline in the stock market and have nothing.

There will not even be an office and office fittings to perpetuate the memory of the brokerage house of Chandler Brothers & Co. after November 25, at that time an auction house will sell all the furniture and fittings of the firm at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. There will be continuation made of this sale the next day at 10:30 o'clock in the office of John M. Hill, the referee.

Was Ready for a Hard Winter Roman Pentkin, Atlantic avenue near Ninth street, Camden, was arrested at his home today when police found four boxes, three shoulders of pork, several packages of bacon and soap, candy and cigarettes in his cellar and under a mattress in his room. Joseph Kravitz, president of the Camden Meat Company, Lowest street and Lansdowne avenue, says all of the articles found were stolen from his store.

Is your advertising printing planned for its effect on your prospects? Or is it worked up to appeal to you?

THE HOLMES PRESS, Printers 1315-29 Cherry Street Philadelphia

GOOD advertising is advertising that's "good" for sales, "good" for profits, "good" for building up prestige—not merely "good" technically.

Getting sales results is a specialty of ours. HERBERT M. MORRIS Advertising Agency Every Phase of Sales Promotion North American Bldg. Philadelphia

You'll taste the difference! ASCO Coffee 25c lb At all our Stores

Exceptional Quality Suits and Overcoats $45

Ferro & Co. Inc. Chestnut Street at Juniper.

At the head of Quality Street—That's where you'll find our convenient corner! Lowering prices have brought no lowering of standards here!

If anything, standards are higher; for we are always out to outdo the best we've ever done. Prices are down simply because we've figured selling prices on today's quotations for woolsens of equal quality.

Down-to-date in price and up-to-date in style!

Exceptional Quality Suits and Overcoats $45

Ferro & Co. Inc. Chestnut Street at Juniper.

At all our Stores

AMERICAN

Investigator Dies

HAMPTON G. SILCOX, SR. Private investigator, formerly connected with the P. R. T., who died at his home, 1323 Lindley avenue, Logan, today

H. G. SILCOX, SR., DIES

Former Investigator for P. R. T. Succumbs to Heart Disease

Hampton G. Silcox, Sr., a private investigator, died at his home, 1323 Lindley avenue, Logan, early this morning. He was fifty-two years old. The cause of his death was heart disease, with complications.

For many years, until 1910, Mr. Silcox was chief of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company's detective force. He is survived by his widow, and a son. He was a member of Rising Sun Lodge, No. 128, Free and Accepted Masons.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 o'clock, from his home, interment at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

HOLIDAY AT POSTOFFICE

Armistice Day Gives Clerks and Carriers a Respite

Today is a holiday at the Philadelphia Postoffice.

No delivery of mail was made by foot delivery carriers. There was, however, the usual holiday delivery of perishable parcel post matter. Collections were made to the best interests of the service and the dispatch of mails was as usual.

There will not even be an office and office fittings to perpetuate the memory of the brokerage house of Chandler Brothers & Co. after November 25, at that time an auction house will sell all the furniture and fittings of the firm at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

There will be continuation made of this sale the next day at 10:30 o'clock in the office of John M. Hill, the referee.

Was Ready for a Hard Winter Roman Pentkin, Atlantic avenue near Ninth street, Camden, was arrested at his home today when police found four boxes, three shoulders of pork, several packages of bacon and soap, candy and cigarettes in his cellar and under a mattress in his room.

Joseph Kravitz, president of the Camden Meat Company, Lowest street and Lansdowne avenue, says all of the articles found were stolen from his store.

Is your advertising printing planned for its effect on your prospects? Or is it worked up to appeal to you?

THE HOLMES PRESS, Printers 1315-29 Cherry Street Philadelphia

GOOD advertising is advertising that's "good" for sales, "good" for profits, "good" for building up prestige—not merely "good" technically.

Getting sales results is a specialty of ours. HERBERT M. MORRIS Advertising Agency Every Phase of Sales Promotion North American Bldg. Philadelphia

You'll taste the difference! ASCO Coffee 25c lb At all our Stores

Exceptional Quality Suits and Overcoats $45

Ferro & Co. Inc. Chestnut Street at Juniper.

At the head of Quality Street—That's where you'll find our convenient corner! Lowering prices have brought no lowering of standards here!

If anything, standards are higher; for we are always out to outdo the best we've ever done. Prices are down simply because we've figured selling prices on today's quotations for woolsens of equal quality.

Down-to-date in price and up-to-date in style!

Exceptional Quality Suits and Overcoats $45

Ferro & Co. Inc. Chestnut Street at Juniper.

At all our Stores

AMERICAN

FOCH WILL PLACE WREATH ON JOAN OF ARC STATUE

Special Delegation Will Meet Marshal at Zoological Garden

Additional plans for the reception and entertainment of Marshal Foch, who will arrive in this city at 1:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, have been announced by the Philadelphia County Committee of the American Legion.

The marshal will leave his train at the Zoological Gardens where he will be met by a representative of the Mayor, Monsieur Pallard, French Consul, the Executive Committee of the Entertainment Committee appointed by the Mayor, thirty veterans of the French Army in uniform, and a representative of Governor Sprual.

The party will proceed to the statue of Joan of Arc, at the junction of the East River drive and Girard avenue, where the marshal will place a wreath. The "Marseillaise" will be played and nine local French societies, headed by Dr. Ernest La Place, will assist in the ceremonies.

The First City Troop will serve as a guard of honor for the allied leader during his stay in this city. They will carry a new standard which has been presented to them for this occasion. It is a replica of the original standard adopted by the Troop in 1775.

After visiting various places about the city the marshal will address an open-air meeting in Independence Square. Members of the American Legion, other ex-servicemen and their families will attend. At 7 o'clock in the evening the marshal will be tendered a banquet in the Bellevue-Stratford by a Citizens' Committee composed of prominent Philadelphians.

Many of the men and women who are arranging the welcome are backing the Bellevue Memorial Committee, which in this city under Mrs. Charles Lee is collecting funds for the restoration of the French town of Belleau as a memorial to the American soldiers who died there.

ANYBODY SEE "COP"? He is a German Police Dog That Is Lost, Strayed or Stolen

All juvenile West Philadelphia is mobilized today in the search for Cop, the German police dog, which was known to nearly that entire section until he strayed away two days ago.

Cop, who is the property of Detective Edward Farrell, of 6048 Chestnut street, was the official mascot of the "Sherwood Hollow Gang," to which Farrell's two small sons, James and Edward, belong.

When Cop disappeared the day before yesterday, there was consternation among the small boys west of the Schuylkill River. The aid of all the other "gangs" was enlisted, and Mr.

Farrell assumed charge of the campaign for his recovery of the dog. The district was laid out in zones, each of which is being closely searched by an appointed party. The Boy Scouts have joined in the hunt, and telephone reports are coming over the wire to the Farrell home at all hours of the day and night.

As a result the campaign director has had no sleep for two nights, but he considers that it is all in a worthy cause, and that no effort is worth that may lead to Cop's return home.

CARNIVAL BY STUDENTS Germantown High to Present "Frolic of 1921"

The Frolic of 1921, the annual carnival given by students of the Germantown High School, will be held tonight and tomorrow night, and the same evenings of the succeeding week.

This affair has been given for the last two years, with the idea of combining all school and social events in one. It represents the efforts of both the student body and the faculty. The proceeds are devoted in part to a fund for scholarships.

The alumni and the senior class will have charge of the program tonight. A feature of the evening will be a series of tableaux depicting famous posters which appeared during the war.

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING Suspect Girl of Robbery of Home of Harry Thal

Katie Gibson, a maid who was employed two weeks ago at the home of Harry Thal, 5047 North Tenth street, is being sought by the police following her disappearance Wednesday night simultaneously with $250 worth of clothing and jewelry.

She had given notice that she was quitting, and Wednesday night she packed her clothes and left. Shortly afterward the Thals went out for the evening, and when they returned they found the door open and the clothing and jewelry missing. Police believe the maid returned after the Thals had gone out, and took the valuables.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE" Police Find "Lost" Boy After Arrest of Innocent Gipsy

A comedy of errors involving the reported kidnapping of a three-year-old child and a wild dash of police on motorcycles almost led to the lynching last night of a gipsy woman near Twelfth and Federal streets. The police, however, played an errorless game.

Mrs. Mary Domenico, 1213 Harmony street, reported the supposed kidnapping to the police of the Twentieth and Federal streets station. She said a gipsy who called at her home to tell a fortune had stolen Joseph, her boy.

Detective Hagan, on a motorcycle driven by Patrolman Carlin, scouted about the neighborhood and soon located a gipsy with a small child. The gipsy protested the child was her own. She was brought to Mrs. Domenico's house, where a large crowd of excited men and women had gathered.

Mrs. Domenico was so excited she at once identified the child as her own. The crowd rushed the gipsy, threatening her with death, and Carlin was compelled to draw his revolver to save her. As Mrs. Domenico hugged the crying boy to her Detective Hagan heard a child's cry in the house. He traced it to a dark corner of the parlor, where the missing Joseph had fallen asleep.

When the detective carried Joseph out the excited mother dropped the other boy and seized her own child. The crowd was dispersed and the gipsy was escorted from the neighborhood with her child. She told Hagan she was Mrs. Mary Laborro.

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON Horse Killed, Driver Hurt in Northeast Boulevard Crash

While driving his bakery wagon on Northeast boulevard, near Front street, this morning, Michael Feist, thirty-five years old, of 114 West Seymour street, was thrown out and received severe lacerations of the scalp when the wagon was struck by an automobile driven by Otto B. Dahl, of 143 West Seymour street.

The horse was killed in the crash. Feist's injuries were treated at the Jewish Hospital, and Dahl was held by Magistrate Pennock, of the Branchtown station, in $600 bail for a hearing next Sunday.

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital Mrs. Annie Seltzer, 4425 North Ninth street, is still in a serious condition with a possible fracture of the skull in St. Luke's Hospital. She was struck Wednesday night on the Roosevelt Boulevard near Ninth street by an automobile driven by I. Lankford, of North Mascher street.

ANYBODY SEE "COP"?

He is a German Police Dog That Is Lost, Strayed or Stolen

All juvenile West Philadelphia is mobilized today in the search for Cop, the German police dog, which was known to nearly that entire section until he strayed away two days ago.

Cop, who is the property of Detective Edward Farrell, of 6048 Chestnut street, was the official mascot of the "Sherwood Hollow Gang," to which Farrell's two small sons, James and Edward, belong.

When Cop disappeared the day before yesterday, there was consternation among the small boys west of the Schuylkill River. The aid of all the other "gangs" was enlisted, and Mr.

Farrell assumed charge of the campaign for his recovery of the dog. The district was laid out in zones, each of which is being closely searched by an appointed party. The Boy Scouts have joined in the hunt, and telephone reports are coming over the wire to the Farrell home at all hours of the day and night.

As a result the campaign director has had no sleep for two nights, but he considers that it is all in a worthy cause, and that no effort is worth that may lead to Cop's return home.

CARNIVAL BY STUDENTS Germantown High to Present "Frolic of 1921"

The Frolic of 1921, the annual carnival given by students of the Germantown High School, will be held tonight and tomorrow night, and the same evenings of the succeeding week.

This affair has been given for the last two years, with the idea of combining all school and social events in one. It represents the efforts of both the student body and the faculty. The proceeds are devoted in part to a fund for scholarships.

The alumni and the senior class will have charge of the program tonight. A feature of the evening will be a series of tableaux depicting famous posters which appeared during the war.

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING Suspect Girl of Robbery of Home of Harry Thal

Katie Gibson, a maid who was employed two weeks ago at the home of Harry Thal, 5047 North Tenth street, is being sought by the police following her disappearance Wednesday night simultaneously with $250 worth of clothing and jewelry.

She had given notice that she was quitting, and Wednesday night she packed her clothes and left. Shortly afterward the Thals went out for the evening, and when they returned they found the door open and the clothing and jewelry missing. Police believe the maid returned after the Thals had gone out, and took the valuables.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE" Police Find "Lost" Boy After Arrest of Innocent Gipsy

A comedy of errors involving the reported kidnapping of a three-year-old child and a wild dash of police on motorcycles almost led to the lynching last night of a gipsy woman near Twelfth and Federal streets. The police, however, played an errorless game.

Mrs. Mary Domenico, 1213 Harmony street, reported the supposed kidnapping to the police of the Twentieth and Federal streets station. She said a gipsy who called at her home to tell a fortune had stolen Joseph, her boy.

Detective Hagan, on a motorcycle driven by Patrolman Carlin, scouted about the neighborhood and soon located a gipsy with a small child. The gipsy protested the child was her own. She was brought to Mrs. Domenico's house, where a large crowd of excited men and women had gathered.

Mrs. Domenico was so excited she at once identified the child as her own. The crowd rushed the gipsy, threatening her with death, and Carlin was compelled to draw his revolver to save her. As Mrs. Domenico hugged the crying boy to her Detective Hagan heard a child's cry in the house. He traced it to a dark corner of the parlor, where the missing Joseph had fallen asleep.

When the detective carried Joseph out the excited mother dropped the other boy and seized her own child. The crowd was dispersed and the gipsy was escorted from the neighborhood with her child. She told Hagan she was Mrs. Mary Laborro.

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON Horse Killed, Driver Hurt in Northeast Boulevard Crash

While driving his bakery wagon on Northeast boulevard, near Front street, this morning, Michael Feist, thirty-five years old, of 114 West Seymour street, was thrown out and received severe lacerations of the scalp when the wagon was struck by an automobile driven by Otto B. Dahl, of 143 West Seymour street.

The horse was killed in the crash. Feist's injuries were treated at the Jewish Hospital, and Dahl was held by Magistrate Pennock, of the Branchtown station, in $600 bail for a hearing next Sunday.

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital Mrs. Annie Seltzer, 4425 North Ninth street, is still in a serious condition with a possible fracture of the skull in St. Luke's Hospital. She was struck Wednesday night on the Roosevelt Boulevard near Ninth street by an automobile driven by I. Lankford, of North Mascher street.

Investigator Dies

FOCH WILL PLACE WREATH ON JOAN OF ARC STATUE

Special Delegation Will Meet Marshal at Zoological Garden

ANYBODY SEE "COP"?

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE"

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital

ANYBODY SEE "COP"?

He is a German Police Dog That Is Lost, Strayed or Stolen

All juvenile West Philadelphia is mobilized today in the search for Cop, the German police dog, which was known to nearly that entire section until he strayed away two days ago.

Cop, who is the property of Detective Edward Farrell, of 6048 Chestnut street, was the official mascot of the "Sherwood Hollow Gang," to which Farrell's two small sons, James and Edward, belong.

When Cop disappeared the day before yesterday, there was consternation among the small boys west of the Schuylkill River. The aid of all the other "gangs" was enlisted, and Mr.

Farrell assumed charge of the campaign for his recovery of the dog. The district was laid out in zones, each of which is being closely searched by an appointed party. The Boy Scouts have joined in the hunt, and telephone reports are coming over the wire to the Farrell home at all hours of the day and night.

As a result the campaign director has had no sleep for two nights, but he considers that it is all in a worthy cause, and that no effort is worth that may lead to Cop's return home.

CARNIVAL BY STUDENTS Germantown High to Present "Frolic of 1921"

The Frolic of 1921, the annual carnival given by students of the Germantown High School, will be held tonight and tomorrow night, and the same evenings of the succeeding week.

This affair has been given for the last two years, with the idea of combining all school and social events in one. It represents the efforts of both the student body and the faculty. The proceeds are devoted in part to a fund for scholarships.

The alumni and the senior class will have charge of the program tonight. A feature of the evening will be a series of tableaux depicting famous posters which appeared during the war.

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING Suspect Girl of Robbery of Home of Harry Thal

Katie Gibson, a maid who was employed two weeks ago at the home of Harry Thal, 5047 North Tenth street, is being sought by the police following her disappearance Wednesday night simultaneously with $250 worth of clothing and jewelry.

She had given notice that she was quitting, and Wednesday night she packed her clothes and left. Shortly afterward the Thals went out for the evening, and when they returned they found the door open and the clothing and jewelry missing. Police believe the maid returned after the Thals had gone out, and took the valuables.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE" Police Find "Lost" Boy After Arrest of Innocent Gipsy

A comedy of errors involving the reported kidnapping of a three-year-old child and a wild dash of police on motorcycles almost led to the lynching last night of a gipsy woman near Twelfth and Federal streets. The police, however, played an errorless game.

Mrs. Mary Domenico, 1213 Harmony street, reported the supposed kidnapping to the police of the Twentieth and Federal streets station. She said a gipsy who called at her home to tell a fortune had stolen Joseph, her boy.

Detective Hagan, on a motorcycle driven by Patrolman Carlin, scouted about the neighborhood and soon located a gipsy with a small child. The gipsy protested the child was her own. She was brought to Mrs. Domenico's house, where a large crowd of excited men and women had gathered.

Mrs. Domenico was so excited she at once identified the child as her own. The crowd rushed the gipsy, threatening her with death, and Carlin was compelled to draw his revolver to save her. As Mrs. Domenico hugged the crying boy to her Detective Hagan heard a child's cry in the house. He traced it to a dark corner of the parlor, where the missing Joseph had fallen asleep.

When the detective carried Joseph out the excited mother dropped the other boy and seized her own child. The crowd was dispersed and the gipsy was escorted from the neighborhood with her child. She told Hagan she was Mrs. Mary Laborro.

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON Horse Killed, Driver Hurt in Northeast Boulevard Crash

While driving his bakery wagon on Northeast boulevard, near Front street, this morning, Michael Feist, thirty-five years old, of 114 West Seymour street, was thrown out and received severe lacerations of the scalp when the wagon was struck by an automobile driven by Otto B. Dahl, of 143 West Seymour street.

The horse was killed in the crash. Feist's injuries were treated at the Jewish Hospital, and Dahl was held by Magistrate Pennock, of the Branchtown station, in $600 bail for a hearing next Sunday.

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital Mrs. Annie Seltzer, 4425 North Ninth street, is still in a serious condition with a possible fracture of the skull in St. Luke's Hospital. She was struck Wednesday night on the Roosevelt Boulevard near Ninth street by an automobile driven by I. Lankford, of North Mascher street.

Investigator Dies

FOCH WILL PLACE WREATH ON JOAN OF ARC STATUE

Special Delegation Will Meet Marshal at Zoological Garden

ANYBODY SEE "COP"?

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE"

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital

ANYBODY SEE "COP"?

He is a German Police Dog That Is Lost, Strayed or Stolen

All juvenile West Philadelphia is mobilized today in the search for Cop, the German police dog, which was known to nearly that entire section until he strayed away two days ago.

Cop, who is the property of Detective Edward Farrell, of 6048 Chestnut street, was the official mascot of the "Sherwood Hollow Gang," to which Farrell's two small sons, James and Edward, belong.

When Cop disappeared the day before yesterday, there was consternation among the small boys west of the Schuylkill River. The aid of all the other "gangs" was enlisted, and Mr.

Farrell assumed charge of the campaign for his recovery of the dog. The district was laid out in zones, each of which is being closely searched by an appointed party. The Boy Scouts have joined in the hunt, and telephone reports are coming over the wire to the Farrell home at all hours of the day and night.

As a result the campaign director has had no sleep for two nights, but he considers that it is all in a worthy cause, and that no effort is worth that may lead to Cop's return home.

CARNIVAL BY STUDENTS Germantown High to Present "Frolic of 1921"

The Frolic of 1921, the annual carnival given by students of the Germantown High School, will be held tonight and tomorrow night, and the same evenings of the succeeding week.

This affair has been given for the last two years, with the idea of combining all school and social events in one. It represents the efforts of both the student body and the faculty. The proceeds are devoted in part to a fund for scholarships.

The alumni and the senior class will have charge of the program tonight. A feature of the evening will be a series of tableaux depicting famous posters which appeared during the war.

MAID AND JEWELS MISSING Suspect Girl of Robbery of Home of Harry Thal

Katie Gibson, a maid who was employed two weeks ago at the home of Harry Thal, 5047 North Tenth street, is being sought by the police following her disappearance Wednesday night simultaneously with $250 worth of clothing and jewelry.

She had given notice that she was quitting, and Wednesday night she packed her clothes and left. Shortly afterward the Thals went out for the evening, and when they returned they found the door open and the clothing and jewelry missing. Police believe the maid returned after the Thals had gone out, and took the valuables.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS IN "KIDNAPPING CASE" Police Find "Lost" Boy After Arrest of Innocent Gipsy

A comedy of errors involving the reported kidnapping of a three-year-old child and a wild dash of police on motorcycles almost led to the lynching last night of a gipsy woman near Twelfth and Federal streets. The police, however, played an errorless game.

Mrs. Mary Domenico, 1213 Harmony street, reported the supposed kidnapping to the police of the Twentieth and Federal streets station. She said a gipsy who called at her home to tell a fortune had stolen Joseph, her boy.

Detective Hagan, on a motorcycle driven by Patrolman Carlin, scouted about the neighborhood and soon located a gipsy with a small child. The gipsy protested the child was her own. She was brought to Mrs. Domenico's house, where a large crowd of excited men and women had gathered.

Mrs. Domenico was so excited she at once identified the child as her own. The crowd rushed the gipsy, threatening her with death, and Carlin was compelled to draw his revolver to save her. As Mrs. Domenico hugged the crying boy to her Detective Hagan heard a child's cry in the house. He traced it to a dark corner of the parlor, where the missing Joseph had fallen asleep.

When the detective carried Joseph out the excited mother dropped the other boy and seized her own child. The crowd was dispersed and the gipsy was escorted from the neighborhood with her child. She told Hagan she was Mrs. Mary Laborro.

AUTOMOBILE HITS WAGON Horse Killed, Driver Hurt in Northeast Boulevard Crash

While driving his bakery wagon on Northeast boulevard, near Front street, this morning, Michael Feist, thirty-five years old, of 114 West Seymour street, was thrown out and received severe lacerations of the scalp when the wagon was struck by an automobile driven by Otto B. Dahl, of 143 West Seymour street.

The horse was killed in the crash. Feist's injuries were treated at the Jewish Hospital, and Dahl was held by Magistrate Pennock, of the Branchtown station, in $600 bail for a hearing next Sunday.

Auto Victim: Still in Hospital Mrs. Annie Seltzer, 4425 North Ninth street, is still in a serious condition with a possible fracture of the skull in St. Luke's Hospital. She was struck Wednesday night on the Roosevelt Boulevard near Ninth street by an automobile driven by I. Lankford, of North Mascher street.

Investigator Dies

FOCH WILL PLACE WREATH ON JOAN OF ARC STATUE